

Honeycomb Blinds Information Blinds

Honeycomb blinds are made from a high quality non-woven polyester that allows the light to gently filter in without sacrificing your privacy or completely block out the light. The Honeycomb blinds cell formation means these blinds have a high level of insulation properties to keep out the strong summer sun and UV rays as well as retaining the warmth of your home in winter. The cell formation of the Honeycomb reduces the noise pollution in your home from the outside world.

The white reflective backing on the blind reflects external solar heat, aiding the insulation process. The Honeycomb blind will help to reduce your homes energy bills. The Honeycomb blinds are 100% polyester fabric that is anti-static and this means it repels dust and dirt from settling on your blind.

There are many styles available for you to select from there is our standard Blockout or Light Filtering Honeycomb, Top Down Bottom Up style, or our Day/Night system. The Standard style of Honeycomb has the option of being made in either Blockout or Light Filtering fabric, unlike the Day/Night system.

The Top Down Bottom Up style means you can have your blind draw up from the base of the blind, or you can drop it down from the top to keep your windows covered but still allow the natural light to come through your window. The Day/Night system allows our 2 styles, Blockout and Light Filtering, in the 1 blind. The Light filtering part of the blind is always on the top half of the blind, while the Blockout is at the bottom, this means of the evening you can have your Blockout Honeycomb blind, and during the day you have your Light Filtering

Honeycomb. With this style of Honeycomb you also have the ability to lift the blind up completely to have full use of your window.

There are a few different control styles available: Cord, Cordless and Chain control. Not all control styles are available on each Honeycomb system.

Child safety is our most important value. We ensure that every blind with chains or cords, has a cord/chain tensioning device to ensure that your blinds are child safe.

You have a wide selection of colours available to select from, we are sure you will find the colour right for you and your home.
